Kristi L. Graham, DVM, MS, DACVIM

Internal Medicine Specialist

Area(s) of interest: internal medicine, dermatology

Dr. Graham received her DVM from Purdue University. She followed it with an internship at Washington State University and finished her training at Atlantic Veterinary College (AVC) of the University of Prince Edward Island, completing an MS and an internal medicine residency. Board-certified in small-animal internal medicine in 2005, Dr. Graham then returned to Indiana and practiced internal medicine for 8 years. She taught in Purdue's veterinary technology program and has periodically provided clinical support in the teaching hospital at AVC as a visiting instructor. She has served as chair of the continuing education committee for the Indiana Veterinary Medical Association for several years. Dr. Graham joined IDEXX as a consultant in 2011.

Alondra Martin, DVM, DACVD

Dermatology Specialist

Area(s) of interest: dermatology

Dr. Martin received her veterinary degree from Mississippi State University in 1993. After spending time in two general practices as an associate veterinarian, she worked as a clinical instructor at the Purdue University Small Animal Community Practice from 1997–2001. She completed a dermatology residency at Purdue University in 2003. She has been board-certified in veterinary dermatology since 2012. In the years following her residency, Dr. Martin worked in the Midwest as a dermatologist in private practice and at Purdue University. Since graduation, she has also worked for the United States Equestrian Federation, drug-testing horses. She joined IDEXX as a dermatology consultant in 2014.

Catherine Metry, DVM, MS, DACVD

Dermatology Specialist

Area(s) of interest: dermatology

Dr. Metry received her veterinary degree from Auburn University in 2007, followed by a small-animal internship at Purdue University. She then completed a dermatology residency and earned a master of science degree in veterinary clinical medicine at the University of Illinois. She has been board-certified in veterinary dermatology since 2013. After completing her residency, she worked as a faculty veterinarian at Brown Mackie College in Louisville, KY, and in private practice in Kentucky. She joined IDEXX as a dermatology consultant in 2014.
